Thank you, Andrew, Sonya and Andrea,

Would you send the appropriate address please? The states and other state associations will need this info. too.

Best regards,

Beth

That's fine with me if it's OK with Andrea. If you wouldn't mind, Beth, it would be great if you could also copy Linda Barr.

Hi Andrea –

Can you advise Beth and the group re: who should receive pre-proposal comments. Assuming it's Sonya Sasseeville, ccing you, but wanted to be sure.

Subject: Question re. Federalism Comments Due August 17

Andrew,

Thank you for your email below. Can you also tell us, regarding the federalism comments due August 17, who/where they should be sent/addressed to at EPA?

Thanks!

Beth

Subject: RE: States-EPA Conversation, RE: CERCLA 108(b), 2 of 2

Per the question asked during the conference call, while the site does not provide “nuts and bolts-level” detail about Agency practices for implementing E.O. 13132, EPA’s process typically involves a post-Federalism briefing comment period of 60 days. (108(b) briefing was 5/18/16) As noted, the pre-proposal Federalism comment period for this rule has been extended to August 17.

Since the site also mentions UMRA, it’s worth noting that EPA’s intergovernmental cost threshold for triggering E.O. 13132 (Federalism) consultation is $25 million in state/local government costs, nationally, in any given year. This policy enables EPA to engage in pre-proposal intergovernmental consultation for a considerably greater number of regulations under the Executive Order than if EPA were to rely on UMRA's statutorily-set threshold of $100 million (now inflation-adjusted to $154 million for 2016).
